Self-help has been the mainstay of the Schenectady Air National Guard Base since its inception. Each unit and section has periodically performed Herculean tasks. The 109th Civil Engineering Flight (officially established on 3 Nov. 69) provided the skill and expertise over the years for the major projects.

Within the 109th Civil Engineering Flight is the Prime Beef Team. BEEF standing for Base Engineering Emergency Force. This is a 60 man mobile repair or construction team set up to operate under field conditions at a new base or one that has had severe destruction due to natural disaster or enemy action. The team has deployed to Suffolk County Air Base on Long Island, Westover AFB, Massachusetts and Elmendorf AFB in Alaska.
