Hangar 254's transformation was one of the more dramatic improvements for the unit. A $3.6 million project, begun in April 1989 and completed in June 1990, included construction of a $2.3 million tail addition, allowing fully enclosed maintenance on the KC-135 in a well-lit and heated hangar, a brand-new 43,000 square-foot consolidated aircraft maintenance (CAM) complex, and a fuel cell facility.
