554th SUPPORT GROUP

The 554th Operations Support Wing inactivated after 11 years at Nellis. It was the first wing of its kind in the Air Force. The 554th Combat Support Group became the 554 Support Group; the 554th Range, Police and Communications Groups became squadrons, respectively. The 554th Civil Engineering Squadron inactivated and the 558th Civil Engineering Squadron activated in its place. All other support functions, except logistics (which went to the 57th Fighter Wing), and the 554th Comptroller Squadron (which became a direct reporting unit of the Center's), became reporting units of the 554th Support Group. 1 Nov 1991
