EMBLEM

On a disc Sable, a stylized dragon with wings displayed Gules, detailed Or, eyed Argent, grasping with fore claws a wrench of the third, turning a nut of the fourth, on a hurt, all entwined by a cog wheel of ten cogs White, all within a narrow border White. Attached above the disc, a Black scroll edged with a narrow White border and inscribed "EQUIP TO WIN" in White letters. Attached below the disc, a Black scroll edged with a narrow White border and inscribed "676TH ARMAMENT SYSTEMS SQ" in White letters. SIGNIFICANCE: Ultramarine blue and Air Force yellow are the Air Force colors. Blue alludes to the sky, the primary theater of Air Force operations. Yellow refers to the sun and the excellence required of Air Force personnel. The dragon represents wise and courageous leadership. The cog wheel represents the unit's mission to develop, build, test and procure armament systems that provide warfighting capabilities. The wrench represents the unit's commitment to sustain and support the armament systems the Squadron fields. The motto, "EQUIP TO WIN," reflects the 308th Armament Systems Wing and the 308th Armament Systems Group mission statements: "Equip our warfighters with [weapons] to fight and win decisively."
