

75 FIGHTER GENERATION SQUADRON

MISSION

The 75 Fighter Generation Squadron is responsible for the planning, scheduling, and execution of scheduled and unscheduled maintenance actions for 24, A-10C Thunderbolt II aircraft in support of the 23rd Wing's annual flying hour program and 75th Fighter Squadron requirements. The unit performs inspections, servicing and launch and recovery actions necessary to maintain mission-readiness. 75th FGS maintenance personnel rapidly generate, mobilize, deploy and employ forces providing both combat and peacetime operations in support of U.S. national security interests.
