

1501st FLIGHTLINE MAINTENANCE SQUADRON

The following month, on 3 June 1941, the Caribbean Interceptor Command was constituted and, initially, consisted of four regions: the Panama Region, CIC, the Puerto Rico Region, CIC, the Trinidad Region, CIC and the Jamaica Region, CIC. These unusual organizations, which seemed logical at the time, soon manifested command, control and communications problems beyond the ability of the Caribbean Air Force (CAP) as then organized, and resulted in many of the subsequent organizational changes which will be seen.
