EMBLEM SIGNIFICANCE

Ultramarine blue and Air Force yellow are the Air Force colors. Blue alludes to the sky, the primary theater of Air Force operations. Yellow refers to the sun and the excellence required of Air Force personnel. The motto, "UT FORMA EST INTELLEGO," translated into English means "TO MODEL IS TO UNDERSTAND" and is the underlying foundation of the Engineering Analysis Squadron. The snake coiled around the column represents the wisdom and fortitude of the Squadron within the intelligence community. The puzzled aircraft symbolizes the unit's mission of piecing predictive analysis together through innovation, collaboration and simulation techniques in order to model the performance characteristics of present and future threat systems. The missing piece represents the ever-present knowledge gaps inherent within the technical intelligence problem. The snake studying the aircraft represents how the Squadron models the performance characteristics of present and future threat systems in order to provide US air and space dominance on a global scale. The key represents the intelligence role of the unit.
