

The AFCSC is responsible for the Air Force's communications and computer systems security programs, including COMSEC and emanations security. AFCSC also provides analytical and engineering services in support of these programs to Air Force activities worldwide. The center manages and accounts for cryptologic devices, codes, call signs and documents that protect Air Force communications and computer systems; performs depot-level maintenance and life-cycle support for cryptologic equipment and systems; and develops and distributes multimedia educational materials to Air Force organizations. In addition, the command provides support to the multi-service Joint Electronic Warfare Center, which is collocated with Headquarters ESC. The ESC commander is also the JEWEC director.

On 1 October, the Joint Electronic Warfare Center (JEWEC) activated at Kelly AFB, Tex. It functioned under the direction of the Joint Chiefs of Staff through the Director of Operations, Joint Staff. The ESC commander, Maj Gen Doyle E. Larson, was dual-hatted as Director of the JEWEC. 1980

On 15 September, the JCS redesignated the Joint Electronic Warfare Center as the Joint Command and Control Warfare Center (JC2WC). 1994
